

Justin Wolfe, LCPC, CADC, CRC, PCGC Clinical Director, Footprints to Recovery

Justin Wolfe LCPC, CADC, CRC, PCGC- Justin Wolfe was raised in Naperville, IL. Justin is the Director of Clinical Services at Footprints to Recovery in Chicago, IL. Justin believes that every person has a story, and a distinct way of viewing and coping with life, to which he strives to connect. Justin has been personally impacted by the disease of addiction, and it is for this reason that he is highly committed to serving others who are fighting to reclaim their lives. Justin's goals for the people he works with is help support them makes changes in their life to help them lead a life that is worth living. Justin completed his Master's in Counseling with a Specialization in Rehabilitation from the Adler University, and his addictions training at the College of Dupage. Justin has presented at the ASAM conference on the topic of Utilizing Contingency Management within Addiction Treatment. Justin is a former college athlete and has coached high school soccer in the area and now enjoys coaching his daughter and son's soccer teams in his free time.